Danila, Petre & Associates - ISO 9001 certification

The law firm Danila, Petre & Associates has implemented the quality management system complying with the requirements of international standard SR EN ISO 9001:2008. The law firm obtained the Certificate no. 2155/2011 issued by AEROQ, which provides development and continuous improvement of competence in the field of legal advice and assistance / representation in court, applying the principles of excellence in providing legal advice and assistance / representation in court, in other words a quality warranty of the provided legal services.

"In the current economic context, affected by the economic crisis, we are witnessing the increasing demand from companies for quality products / services, environmental protection and health and safety, requirements embodied in regulations becoming more severe. Moreover, we are witnessing an increase in the clients' exigency when choosing their business partners. Therefore, in recent years we have focused heavily on quality and improvement and the implementation of this management system is a first visible step towards guarantying the quality of services that we offer . ", said Nicoleta Grama, Partner within DPA.
